HEADLIGHT

The current issue in circulation is No. 44. Mike Mucklin has finished issue 45 and disseminated the soft proof to the staff. In editing, an error was noticed in one article and a rewrite of that section of the feature was required. The latest proof is in the hands of the staff once again. Assuming there are no further edits, or they are at least minor, we should be going to press on this very shortly.

Issue 46 is also ready to go to proof but Mike has held off actually distributing this until 45 is off the table. Once 45 is done, we'll go straight to proof on 46.

After that we are, quite frankly, running low on material. We have one rather lengthy submission coming from Steve Jolly but other than that we are pretty much out of main feature material.

This "shake-up" in the Historical / Archives section has had a negative impact on our flow of editorial submissions. Mike would like to see this issue addressed in order to bolster submissions of material to our publication.
