

News from the WPRM – Spring has arrived!

April 1, 2022

Spring has finally arrived at the museum in Portola and we are getting ready for another season of railroading.

There are several things coming up that I wanted to bring to your attention.

We are holding the first crew-training class of 2022 on Saturday, April 9, at the museum. If you would like to join the Operating Department in running trains this season, please register at https://wplives.org/register_for_crew_training.html.

The museum opens for the 2022 season on Thursday, April 14. We will be open noon – 4 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays and 10 a.m. – 5 p.m. on weekends until October 2.

We are hosting the 2022 Western Pacific Railroad Historical Convention in Reno, May 12 – 14, with special events open only to the convention delegates at Portola on Sunday May 15. For more information about attending, please see https://wplives.org/news_items/2022_Convention_News.html.

Although the museum has been closed, several projects/events took place over the winter. There were several milestones reached on the WP 165 Steam Restoration Project. There are photos and videos of some of them on our gallery page, https://wplives.org/wprm_gallery.html.

Paul Finnegan

FRRS/WPRM Webmaster

WPRM News Vol. II No. 2