Date: April 10, 2025

January/February/March/April 2025 Issue # 204

This will be the first issue using the new three-times-a-year publication schedule. Based on discussions with Kerry Cochran, we attempted to publish it a little early so the article about 2025 crew training would reach the membership before it took place. The planned publication date was pulled into April 15, 2025. However, we failed to get several articles from the authors and the information we wanted to include in the issue about the convention was delayed.

So on April 9, we reverted to the original publication date of early May, removed the crew training article and sent a Mailtrain email blast about the crew training instead.

At this time the expected articles include:

- Upcoming FRRS/WPRM Events...
