

whenever time permitted, observed the pigs suffering from the heat which was radiating from the canyon wall. Near the west end of Pulga siding, a water hose was hooked up at a location where a spring flowed from the canyon. Thinking a nice cool shower would make the pigs feel better the brakeman proceeded to wet down the animals. When the train reached Oroville all the pigs were dead: the shock was too much for them. No one except the brakeman knew what had happened—as all the water had evaporated.

BURRO CRANE E-14

Here is a little info on the Burro Crane we now have at the museum, the trailer flat shown came with it and it has been converted to a diesel engine.....

